PORTUGAL SAT UPON

Because She Was Weak—An Old Story Over Again.

London, Jan. 14.—The immediate cause of the despatch of Lord Salisbury's ultimatum to Lisbon concerning the disputed territory in Africa, was Portugal's proposal to apply to the powers which signed the Berlin treaty, and to ask them to mediate with England in her behalf under the terms of that treaty. Lord Salisbury did not care to have the English claim made a subject of an international debate and, therefore, despite Prince Bismarck's request that he should deal gently with Portugal, he made the peremptory demand for a full surrender.

The Portuguese government has sent a circular note to the powers relative to the dispute with England. It alleges that England did not wait for the reply of Senor Gomez of January 10 to that of Lord Salisbury, but submitted her ultimatum on mere reports that Mrjor Serpa Pinto had disobeyed the telegraphic orders sent him by the Portuguese government in compliance with the wishes of Lord Salisbury. Major Pinto in a note says he quitted Nyassaland and the Shire district three weeks ago, some time prior to the sending of the orders, and is now sick at Mozambique. The note further says that Senor Gomez never alluded to arbitration during the negotiations, but suggested throughout the holding of an international conference to settle the difficulty.

The papers of Madrid roundly abuse England for the stand she took in forcing Portugal to accede to her demand relative to the territory in East Africa. Spanish republicans are closely watching the course of events in Lisbon.

The Paris papers unanimously condemn the policy followed by England in the dispute with Portugal as a violation of the Berlin treaty.

Senor Pimillieo is making all possible haste to form a Portugese ministry to succeed Senor Gomez and his congress, and his efforts are accelerated by the monarchist fear of the worst of political consequences likely to arise from the surrender of the Gomez ministry to the demands of the English government.

The continental press, without exception, condemn the course of England in the matter, and openly accuse the British government of having wrested from a helpless power a territory, her right to which she dared not submit to arbitration.

THE TRUSTEE MEETING.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—The superintendent of education, in his reply to the resolution of the Board of Trustees regarding the time of holding the semi-annual examination, assigns three reasons for the decrease in attendance which inevitably results therefrom, viz: the prevalence of sickness, the unwisdom of the trustees themselves in allowing public concerts to be given by the pupils and the failure of the teachers to "carry on the regular work" and "make the exercises of the schoolroom more interesting and instructive than usual." It will be noticed that these reasons, though they do certainly reflect on the teachers, the trustees and perhaps mildly on Providence itself, do not contain the slightest intimation that the department might have erred, or the faintest admission of its responsibility for the state of affairs to which its attention was somewhat forcibly directed by the trustees.

Now, sir, it may be quite true that sickness was prevalent in the month of December last. That it was, will be news to many, and if it was, it was not serious enough to engage the public attention or invite the comments of wretched reporters. It is indeed remarkable that in Victoria sickness among children begins as soon as examinations have ended. And whether the Trustees acted judiciously in allowing a public entertainment to be given by the pupils is scarcely worth while discussing at the present time, as the probability is that years will elapse before they will have an opportunity of showing the Department whether or not they appreciate the force and fairness of its censure. Suffice it to say that the meagre attendance after the last examination was not at all exceptional. It has been the rule for the past two years at least, and I remember that either Mr. Heisterman or Dr. Milne made a complaint similar to that embodied in the resolution above referred to, and that, too, at a time when to my certain knowledge sickness was not prevalent or concerts fashionable. The preparation for the last entertainment was made after school hours, as every teacher knows to his sorrow, and, instead of diminishing the attendance, the fact is incontrovertible that the pupils who took part in it were those who attended school with the greatest regularity.

Well then, Mr. Editor, if the attendance dwindles regardless of sickness or of health, who can be held responsible? Why, the teachers of course. They have of late been accustomed to receive so many marks of favor and hear so many expressions of confidence from all sides that it is quite refreshing to hear the Superintendent of Education vary the monotony by stating in unequivocal language that if they proceeded with their regular work and attended properly to their duties, no such disastrous consequences would be experienced. With all deference to the Superintendent's opinion, I contend that he has no right to make general charges of such a sweeping character against the twenty-five teachers of Victoria, even though the motive be the very laudable one of enabling him to shirk the responsibility which properly attaches to the department. If he is prepared to make specific charges which can be sustained against any teacher or teachers, it is clearly his duty to do so, but he has no right to condemn them unheard and create the impression that they have been neglectful of their duties without giving them a chance to defend themselves. There is not a public examination of the schools of Victoria at which the teachers do not receive, if not praise, at least encouragement, and the "progress made by the pupils since the last examination" is dwelt on with tedious eloquence, but as soon as the faultfinder arises and complaints are made, then it is found convenient to make the teachers shoulder all the blame and give the department all the credit. We want fair play and no favors. J. P. McLeod.

Max O'Rell on the American Girl.

Max O'Rell, the French author, has been lecturing on the American girl as he observed her during his six months' tour of England. He said:

From the age of eighteen the American girl is allowed almost every liberty; she can do what she pleases. (Laughter.) She travels alone, she has a reception day and a reception room, and visits and receives whom she likes. If at the house she sees a young fellow who takes her fancy, she will say:—"I am at home on Wednesday. Call and see me." He spoke now of the great bulk of the American nation. Next day the young fellow might leave tickets for the theatre. Theatres and oysters are very cheap in America; also English books which are stolen (laughter)—but, worse than that, French books are translated into American. (Laughter.) The young fellow would take a girl to the theatre. After the theatre he would take her to a respectable restaurant and order a sort of cold lunch, and if he should order half a bottle of champagne she would probably ask him what he was going to drink. (Laughter.) Then he would take her home—she had her own latch key. (Laughter.) To show that this did not lead to the slightest intimacy it was just possible that these two would meet in a few days and the young girl would come to the young man and say:—"I want to introduce you to a friend of mine. May I ask you for your name?" (Laughter.) The American woman was tired of the old European formula—a woman cannot do this, she cannot do that, it is improper for her to do this. Oh, but, said the American woman, I will make it proper, I will make precedents. He was not quite sure that it was not for the women to make the law in these matters. He would tell them why the American women could be so free. It was because not only in the day but at night time, even in the largest cities, even on Saturday nights, the streets are respectable. (Hear! hear!) It is the respect which women inspired in all men which enables young women to have such freedom. He could not say, however, that he ever saw in the American women any gratitude for what they received from the men. (Laughter.)

Owners of the Steamer North Star Break the Act.

The little steamer North Star recently fitted with engine and boiler, was noticed by Inspector W. A. Russell, cruising about the harbor this morning. He not having surveyed her, or had any request filed with him to do so, at once notified the collector, Mr Milne, and the steamer was tied up by order of the authorities until Mr. Russell is satisfied that her owners have complied with section 10, chap. 1, of the Steamboat Inspection Act, which reads as follows:

"No boiler shall be made of boiler plate, whether iron or steel, which has not been stamped with the name or mark of the maker thereof; and no certificate shall be granted with respect to any boiler made wholly or in part of plate not so marked; and before a certificate shall be granted with respect to any boiler, a declaration on oath by the maker of the boiler, stating the name of the maker of the plates, their quality and the quality of all materials used in the construction of the boiler, shall be furnished the Inspector; such oath may be taken before any Justice of the Peace in Canada, or before a Notary Public and certified under his official seal, if taken out of Canada. * * * *"

The iron of the boiler of the North Star has not been so sworn to and stamped, hence, Inspector Russell's action in the matter. The owners of the steamers were notified before the boiler was put in of the provisions of the act and have only themselves to blame in the matter.

OFFICER AT TACOMA.

Inspector Young to Install Officer Robertson.

Inspector of Ports Young of the customs, goes over to Tacoma on Monday next to install Mr. J. Robertson, who has been appointed Canadian customs officer for that port to examine goods in bond.

Mr. Robertson has for some time been in the same service in Duluth, and yesterday reached Tacoma. Mr. Young was to have gone over to-day, but a press of business at the office here kept him. He will be away for about a week, as instructions to the new officer have to be given pertaining to the system of work to be done at the port of Tacoma.

Victoria Climate.

Dwellers in this city can hardly realize that within a few miles of here the snow is lying many feet thick upon the ground, and winter holds full sway. At Nanaimo sleighing and snow shovels are the order of the day. The same can be said of Vancouver and New Westminster, but here in Victoria there is no snow and the weather is decidedly summery. It is exceptional though for this season, for an old-timer was heard to say that it was the mildest weather he had seen for election day for 20 years.

Victoria West Theatre Opened.

Last night the new Victoria West Theatre, built by a number of the young men in that suburb, was opened by the Victoria West Amateur Dramatic Company, with the famous dramas "Lost in London," and "Brother Ben." The plays were well put on before a crowded house and a brilliant future is predicted for the company. The opening will be completed with a ball on Saturday evening the 18th inst. For the first performance reserved seats sold at high prices.

Blackballed From the Club.

A Montreal dispatch says: There is a sensation here over the blackballing of four of Montreal's leading citizens from membership in the St. James' Club, the swell organization of Montreal. One of those blackballed is Mr. B. J. Coughlin. The greatest secrecy is maintained over the whole affair, but it is whispered that the sole cause for the blackballing is the Irish organ of the applicants. When the affair gains publicity there will be great indignation in Irish circles, and representations will probably be made by the Montreal Hunt Club, of which the gentlemen who have been refused admission to the St. James', are the acknowledged heads.

The Election.

The election for aldermen to-day was carried on in a very quiet manner, no doubt owing to the absence of a mayoralty contest, which naturally overshadows the others. While it might have seemed quiet to the outsider, it was fairly brisk, nevertheless, and a good vote seems to have been polled.

Labouchere and the Grippe.
"I like to be in the fashion," writes Mr. Labouchere, "so I bore my fate with equanimity when I discovered that I had caught last week the prevailing epidemic. All of a sudden I seemed to have caught a cold and took to sneezing, etc. Then came a cough and headache and an allovarish ache. Knowing that it was not dangerous I proceeded to doctor myself by the light of common sense. To prevent any fever I at once administered to myself thirty grains of quinine—that settled the fever. To meet the cough I took unlimited squill pills—that settled the cough. To meet the cold I went to bed, heaped on the bed blankets and took nothing but slops—that settled the cold. In four days I was quite well."

Riches from an Old Mine.
When two men can take out $100,000 in less than a year from a quartz mine, they are doing a pretty good business. Yet this is what two young men, Messrs. Grant and Appel, have done in the Chipps Flat pocket mine, between Moore's Flat, Nevada county, and Alleghany, Sierra county. And they have no mill, either, simply pounding the rich rock up in a mortar by hand. This mine was abandoned over 20 years ago, and lay idle until these men took hold of it. They ran about twenty feet further in the old tunnel and struck it rich. Since then they have made a number of bullion shipments, the last bar weighing 125 pounds.

Should we read of an occurrence of this sort in a distant region, hundreds of men would be anxious to go to a locality so favored. Yet here it has attracted no special attention. The same may be said of the Bonanza claim, a pocket mine in Tuolumne county, which has yielded very largely of late. In pocket mining there are great chances to be taken, of course, but if the chance is a lucky one, there is great reward for labor. Doubtless many others of the abandoned mines, in the older districts of the State will be worked again in course of time, when people come to a realizing sense of their good fortune in living in a region where there are such golden possibilities. Sierra and Tuolumne are not the only mountain counties where there are opportunities for energetic and persevering men in quartz mining.—Min. and Sci. Press.

BRAZIL'S STORY.

Sent Semi-Officially by Gen. de Fonseca's Brother to the Press.

Cause of the Revolution, Religious Intolerance and Other Things.

Paris, Jan. 1.—Senhor Simoes da Fonseca, brother of Gen. da Fonseca, chief of the Provisional government of the United States of Brazil, has arrived in this city. He was sent by his brother to ascertain the feeling of his countrymen in Europe, and especially in France, with regard to the change of government made in Brazil, and to assure all persons directly concerned in the commercial and financial affairs of Brazil that the change will in no wise affect their interests.

As the personal representative of the general he has lost no time in informing bankers and merchants here that the new government will continue to recognize all the obligations incurred by the old regime. In pursuance of the purpose of his mission Senhor Simoes has entered upon the publication of a journal, entitled the Courrier du Brazil, devoted to the explanation and defense of the new order of things and to the maintenance and promotion of Brazilian securities and Brazilian interests generally.

As the man best informed of the views of the new government and its chief, and fresh from the headquarters of the revolution, I waited upon Senhor Simoes today and was readily accorded an interview. He said that the chief causes of the movement were the intolerant and intolerable religious views of the Crown Princess Isabella, the constant infringement upon the people's rights by the Court party, the insults offered to the army, and the disgraceful means employed in the last election to defeat the Republicans.

The Princess, he said, who never had the esteem of the greater portion of the Brazilians, took it upon herself as regent during the absence of the Emperor in Europe to play a dangerous role in political affairs. She interfered in the reorganization of the Guro Preto ministry, which was already formed by the Emperor and contained republicans. The Princess dismissed all the republican ministers and replaced them by members of her household, of whose loyalty to the throne she was sure. The new ministers had neither prestige nor experience in political affairs. The idea of the Princess Regent was to insure the throne by centralizing the administration.

Added to this, said Senhor da Fonseca was the constant attitude of the Count d'Eu, whose offensive policy made him the most unpopular member of the Imperial family. In every move the republicans made the heavy hand of the Count was felt. His obstructive and hostile action during the election of Oct. 6, contributed largely to increase the popular discontent which led to the revolution. Through misadvice the government employed every method of fraud and violence to prevent republicans from voting; men with republican ballots were denied access to the polls, and republican placards were torn down by the police wherever found. The press was muzzled, and writers who dared to express liberal views were thrown into prison.

The result of all this was an overwhelming majority for the government, and the formation of an exclusively monarchical government. Among those who brought about this success recompenses were freely distributed in the form of titles. In a short space of time ninety barons and viscounts were created. Senators were promoted to the peerage and small politicians were decorated with imperial orders.

Undeterred by defeat at the polls, the Republicans continued their aggressive policy. Finding itself unable to make use of the army to persecute the Liberals the government appealed to the negroes. They were reminded of the fact that to a stroke of the imperial pen they owed their freedom. This called upon their gratitude succeeded and resulted in the organization of the Guards Negra, which was used to attack the Republicans on all sides. Next the National Guard was formed out of the militia as a counter-check to the regular army, in which the monarchical party had lost confidence.

To further carry on their crusade against the Republicans, large sums were voted and the landowners were heavily taxed. The latter, originally slaveholders, became dissatisfied with this action and with the hasty and arbitrary abolition of slavery, and gave their support to the Republicans. The soldiers became imbued with the Republican spirit. Then the imperial throne began to totter. The final blow was given when the Emperor sanctioned the return of the Jesuits, who had been a long time expelled from Brazilian territory. For this act the Crown Princess, whose work it really was, received from the Pope the Golden Rose.

The Emperor was over-influenced by the Princess, whose bigotry made her unpopular and who constantly labored to make Brazil tributary to the Pope. Six bishops were created at once, and cardinals hats solicited from the Holy Father for favored prelates of the court. This was going too far. The people protested, but in vain. The cabinet was thoroughly conservative and at one with the court. Then the Emperor was implored to modify the ministry. He failed to act promptly and missed the opportunity of saving his crown. It was not until the people had risen and demanded to be heard, that the Emperor gave them a hearing. But his deposition had already been decreed. Gen. Fonseca received a notice that His Majesty had formed a new Ministry and that a portfolio was waiting for him. It was then too late. The revolution had been accomplished.

Senhor Simoes said that it was Gen. Fonseca's great desire to see the revolution completed without bloodshed, and he personally knew it was his brother's wish to put the Emperor and Empress to as little inconvenience as possible. The Emperor was much loved and he could not be held responsible for the acts which had been forced upon him. It was his subjection to the baleful influences of the Princess and Count d'Eu, which had been fatal to him. It was a blessing, said Senhor da Fonseca, that the change happened in Dom Pedro's time. Had the Princess been upon the throne there would have been a lamentable shedding of blood.

The revolution, Senhor da Fonseca said, was a popular one. The fact that no blood was shed was due to the fraternization of the people and the troops. The Government was in equal harmony with the army and the people. The revolution was an accomplished fact and the republic was bound to remain. There could be no turning back.

No Changes.

The markets remain about the same as last week, there being no changes to notice. It is anticipated, however, that there will be a stiff rise in potatoes in a few days, as large quantities have been injured by the frost.

MR. STEAD AND MR. PECKSNIFF

It has been remarked, that for the "sake of English society and English decency" that it is to be hoped that Mr. STEAD formerly editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, "will never occupy the editorial chair of a London daily." As regards the ventilation of scandalous matter it makes a great deal of difference to some people whose bull is gored. Just now, and it has been the case for a number of years past, the aristocracy of England have enjoyed a monopoly of all of the dirty scandals going, and without exception English writers of Tory proclivities have manifested no little squamishness with reference to the publication of details. Every one remembers the fearful scandal which was unearthed a few years ago in London, and which probably would have been sifted to the bottom only that royalty was mixed up in it. This scandal took London by the ears, and the Pall Mall Gazette, of which Mr. STEAD was editor, won for itself unenviable notoriety by publishing the details with nauseating fullness. But while Mr. STEAD, in the alleged interest of morality, unquestionably went too far, those who roared the loudest about obscene journalism were of the political complexion of the wealthy and aristocratic scoundrels who were implicated in the affair. Their motives were purely selfish. They were actuated by no other instinct than that of the preservation of political status. The Tory bull was being gored and they bawled loudly against the disemboweling of the noble beast. Now comes the West End scandal, an exclusively Tory monopoly, in which members of some of England's noblest families are alleged to be heavy shareholders. Editor PARKE published some noble names as being connected with the affair, and he was promptly brought before the courts on the charge of criminal libel. Now we have no remarks to offer in extenuation of Editor PARKE. Unquestionably he was imprudent, and not improbably he was malicious. If the latter, he deserves punishment; if the former, he should suffer for it. Indiscretion even should not go unpunished. No man's name should be mentioned in connection with a scandal of the character in question unless there is indubitable proof of complicity. But whether Editor PARKE has been indiscreet or malicious makes no difference. What we wish to call attention to is the fact that the snobbish instincts of the lawyer employed by the defence got the better of him and he threw up his brief. It is alleged by way of palliation that the legal gentleman has not lost faith in his client's case, but being a "man of the future," and not "caring to run a tilt against society, he prefers to occupy the position of a spectator." What must be the state of society in England when a lawyer is afraid to "run a tilt" against it in a matter so revolting to common decency as the West End scandal. The man is afraid of being ostracised for what? For assisting to compass British justice? It isn't just the thing, you know. An English Lord is implicated. It will strike all men who have watched the trend of events in this affair that Pecksniffianism is a growth more highly developed in England than anywhere else. It is more powerful than duty; it transcends the law. The idea of morality has fallen so low that it is unfashionable, and worth a man's business career to prosecute an aristocrat. But as to the publishing of a certain class of scandalous matter, the obscenity of the thing rests entirely with the motive which inspires the publication. If the object is to increase sales, as is too often the case with newspapers, then certainly the publication is immoral and the offenders should be punished. If, however, the publication has for a purpose the ventilation of a crime whose enormity to be appreciated requires elaboration of details, we do not see that any objections can well be raised. It is seldom, however, that anything of this kind is required, yet of the two, suppression or publication of scandalous affairs, it must be obvious to any one familiar with human nature that the latter, inconvenient as it may be to prudes and hypocrites cannot in safety be dispensed with. The publicity of even a small crime is more dreadful to the majority of people than the punishment which the law inflicts. The fine of five dollars in the case of a common drunk is nothing. It is the publicity of the thing which men dread and so it happens that only the very few who are case hardened figure in our police courts. The tattling propensity of the press some people regard as a veritable curse, but as a matter of fact it acts as a species of moral police, and works untold benefit to society. It is only those who are given to "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" who object to publicity and this is the best argument in favor of it. The world has very little use for honest prudes, but what shall we say of prudes who affect prudishness as a screen to their misdeeds.

NOTHING IN IT.

What the Globe accuses Sir JOHN MACDONALD and the Mail of doing is not intrinsically improbable. Treachery of the kind they are accused is as old as history. We might mention a dozen analogous instances. Still, while treachery of this kind is not without precedents, the Canadian public will require considerably better evidence than has yet been adduced by the Globe before it will consent to swallow the story. If there was anything in it Senator HOAR would have been more discreet. The sittings of the Commission would not have been conducted in such a way as to lead to the impression that there was treachery in high places. It is pretty safe to say that whatever may be Sir JOHN's private opinion with regard to the ultimate destiny of Canada, he cannot afford to stultify his record. He has endeavored to build up a Canadian nationality, and whether he has succeeded or not, he cannot afford to alter his record. What he has attempted for Canada though it has been but partially successful was at least honorable, and posterity will so regard it. To abandon now what has been a life-long endeavor would lead to the impression that he had never been sincere, but had used the N. P. fad as a means to personal ends. Depend upon it Sir JOHN is no traitor, nor the Mail for that matter, for as the Mail says: "Those capable of believing that the Mail staff is secretly leagued with Sir JOHN MACDONALD in operating against the Canadian Liberals, in directing the trade policy of the Republican party at Washington, and in hastening the annexation of the Dominion, are, we fancy, few in number and confined to the Globe office and the lunatic asylum."

TARIFF MODIFICATIONS.

The Monetary Times thus discusses modification of the tariff:

"This is no time for the government to ignore the claims of manufacturers, the very existence of whose business may depend upon there being made some modifications of the tariff. In asking for modifications of the tariff, the manufacturers do not approach the government as suppliants for favors; and the Monetary Times, nor any of those who oppose tariff revision, need suffer heart-sickness in advising the government to turn deaf ears to whatever suggestions they may have to make. On the other hand, the manufacturers do not anticipate any such treatment, but they will go to Ottawa, and they will show to the government wherein there should be some modifications of the tariff, and they feel dead sure that their representations will receive the consideration they deserve."

"That is putting it very plainly," says the Montreal Herald. "It implies at once a boast and a warning—a boast that the beneficiaries of the tariff, who form but a handful of our population, are masters of the situation, have the Government by the throat, and will dictate the fiscal policy that best suits them, even though it be injurious to nine-tenths of the people; and a warning to the Government to be careful how they act. The situation is getting to be interesting to the people of Canada when the organ of the protected manufacturers thus boldly and impertinently declares that the government dare not disobey the behests of the protected manufacturers, 'the men who get practically the sole benefit of the tariff laws.'"

It certainly does seem as if the manufacturers wanted the earth, and from the boldness of their language it looks as if they felt pretty sure of getting it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Bank clearings in Chicago last year amounted to $3,379,925,188 a gain of $216,150,720 over 1888. No wonder Chicago is complacent and wants the World's Fair.

The debt of Cuba is $124,000,000 at 6 per cent., and is said to be held wholly by German bankers, and as it is not likely that either Spain or Cuba will be able to meet their obligations the inference drawn is, that for all practical purposes the political and financial control of the island will pass into the hands of Germany. This in the estimation of Senator CALL is interfering with the "historical laws and principles which must rule the American hemisphere," and he has accordingly introduced a resolution that "everything done or attempted to be done in the Island of Cuba tending to transfer the financial and political control of that island is contrary to the policy and interests of the United States, and must be protested against." Senator CALL, apparantly, is borrowing a good deal of trouble. If Cuba owes Germany $124,000,000 no impediments should be put in the way of her paying. So long as Germany refrains from taking actual possession of Cuba, the United States certainly has no ground for alarm. The United States Senate has its share of cheap politicians and alarmists who only for their pettifogging in foreign affairs would never be heard of. That there are some men in the Senate who are not nervous is apparent in the fact that Senator SHERMAN said he should object to the resolution unless it was referred to the committee on foreign relations, where it will in all probability be shelved.

WHEREAS, one William Hewartson is contemplating the erection and operation of a Paper Mill in the City of Victoria, British Columbia.

AND WHEREAS, the Corporation of the City of Victoria have determined to assist him in the said work by giving to him by way of Bonus, the sum of $15,000.00, and exempting him from payment of all municipal taxes that may be against the said works for a period of fifteen years after the final completion thereof;

AND WHEREAS, for the purposes aforesaid, it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the said City the sum of $15,000.00.

AND WHEREAS, it will require the sum of $1,208.22 to be raised annually by special rate, for paying the debt intended to be hereby created and the interest thereon;

AND WHEREAS, the amount of the whole ratable property of the said Corporation, according to the last revised assessment roll is $8,948,908;

AND WHEREAS, it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED, by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said City of Victoria to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, or body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the Debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not in the whole exceeding the sum of $15,000, and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of Debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required either in currency or in sterling money, not less than $500 each, or the sterling equivalent of that sum and such and all such Debentures shall be sealed with the common seal of the said Corporation, signed by the Mayor and counter signed by the clerk of the said Corporation.

3. The said Debentures shall be payable in twenty years from the date hereafter mentioned for this By-Law, to take effect at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation at the City Hall, Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of the interest.

4. The said Debentures shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent, per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

5. For the purpose of forming a Sinking Fund for the payment of the said Debentures and the interest to become due thereon, an equal special rate of 1-70 of one per cent. on the dollar shall, in addition to all other rates, be raised, levied and collected, in each year, upon all ratable property within the said City of Victoria during the continuance of the said Debentures, or any of them.

6. That it shall be lawful for the said Municipal Council from time to time, to purchase any of the said Debentures and such Debentures shall be so expressed as to entitle the said Council to redeem and purchase the same on paying the amount thereof and interest due thereon to the date of such purchase to the holder or holders thereof, and all such Debentures so repurchased shall be forthwith cancelled and destroyed, and no re-issue of Debentures shall be made in consequence of such re-purchase.

7. This By-Law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the ratepayers of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipal Act, 1889, and shall take effect on the first day of January, A. D. 1891.

8. The said Mayor shall not issue the said Debentures or any of them until the Corporation of the City of Victoria has passed a resolution requesting him to do so.

9. The Council shall not authorize the payment of the said Bonus to the said William Hewartson until three months after the said William Hewartson has furnished to the Corporation good and satisfactory proof that the contemplated Paper Mill and machinery in connection therewith have been erected within the Municipality of the City of Victoria; and that the said contemplated Paper Mill has cost not less than the sum of $50,000, nor shall the said Bonus or any part thereof be paid to the said William Hewartson unless the said mill and machinery aforesaid have been erected and in running order on or before the first day of July, A. D. 1891.

10. The said Paper Mill and machinery and premises on which the same may be erected shall be exempt from all municipal taxes for a period of fifteen years from the final completion of the said mill ready for work.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of the Movements of Well Known Persons.

John Weiler's condition is about the same to day as yesterday.

Sergeant Hewett, of "C" Battery is very low with inflammation of the lungs.

Jas. Orr, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Seattle is visiting the city.

F. H. Lang, of the Dominion Express Co., is confined to his home with sickness.

Mrs. L. A. Rostein of San Francisco, is visiting her sister-in-law Mrs. Dr. S. M. Hartman

Capt. Fitzstubbs, gold commissioner for the northern portion of the Skeena river has been confined to St. Joseph's hospital with congestion of the lungs for the past two weeks, but is improving.

A. B Cowan, of the firm of Cowan & Co., Galt, Ont., is paying his annual visit to the many patrons of the firm on the coast. Many of the Victoria manufacturers have obtained their machinery from this old firm which always gives satisfaction. Mr. Cowan is at the Clarence.

Nelson Bennett, of Tacoma, is going to have a private steamboat built for his own use, so that there will be no kicking by the passengers of the steamer Fairhaven when that vessel turns back to take him aboard at Tacoma after getting halfway to Seattle.

TO BE FIXED HERE.

The Boiler of the Active to be Rebuilt In This City.

A contract has been signed by the managers of the Albion Iron Works and the Royal City Planing Mills Co., by which it is agreed that the boiler of the tug Active, belonging to the latter company is to be reconstructed and rebuilt by the Albion.

The Active's boiler which is virtually a new one was built by John Abel of Toronto, but it has proved to be faulty in its riveting, and consequently must come out for repairs.

The work will take about two months to complete, and will involve the expenditure of several thousand dollars. The whole of the work will be done under the supervision of Mr. W. A. Russell, steamboat inspector at this port, and it is understood that he must be satisfied with its workmanship, before it is accepted by the Royal City Planing Mills Co.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. E. Richards, Q. C.)

William Roby, known in police circles as "Pegleg" was charged with vagrancy.

Officer Rawton gave evidence that the prisoner had admitted that selling liquor to Indians was the only thing he could do to make a few bits. Officer Levin corroborated this as did the superintendent of police. His Honor sent the prisoner to the jail for six months. Prisoner was taken away lamenting, saying he wished the judge would order him hanged.

William Raymond was charged with being a frequenter of a bawdy house and with failing to give a satisfactory account of himself. Defendant represented by Mr. Eberts, of Eberts & Taylor, pleaded not guilty and asked for an adjournment.

Supt. Sheppard stated that the prisoner had come to this city in the company of a prostitute, with whom he had since been living. No objections to an adjournment would be made, and the case was adjourned until to-morrow, prisoner being allowed out on his own recognizances meanwhile.

Cutlery.

M. & H. A. Fox have just received a fine stock of best Sheffield pocket and table cutlery, razors, scissors, etc. Razors and scissors in cases, shaving sets, strops in great variety, etc. Call and examine it, at 78 Government street. *

For the North.

The Bardonax did not leave for the north yesterday owing to heavy shipments of machinery from the Albion Iron Works for new canneries. She got away this afternoon about four o'clock with a full freight and about twenty-five passengers.

Sir John's Birthplace.

A note addressed to the editor enquires as to the birthplace of Sir John Macdonald and requests an answer. Sir John was born in Glasgow, Scotland in the year 1815 and when a boy came with his father to Canada, where he learned how to "beat the grits."

Y. M. I.

The Young Men's Institute of this city held their first meeting in Temperance Hall, Pandora street, last night. Notwithstanding that it blew great guns, the attendance was splendid. The society is a very worthy one and conduces to every member's moral advancement. The new hall is a cosy one and admirably suited for the purpose.

A Carload of Stock.

James Bryce, who went east a short time ago for a carload of horses, will arrive in the city this evening with the stock, which has been purchased in Ontario. Amongst the animals are two for the fire department; but it is optional with the department about accepting them unless suitable in every respect, and too much care cannot be exercised in a selection.

For Alberni.

The steamer Barbara Boscowitz, Capt. Williams, will leave for Alberni and way points this evening on the first trip of the season. A few passengers have been booked for Alberni and a fair quantity of freight goes down, principally flour. A planing machine for M. M. Sproat's mill is shipped by E. G. Prior & Co. A quantity of dressed lumber for improvements is another item of freight. The Boscowitz will return on Monday.

They Didn't Wear 'em.

After a recent dancing party several of our young society men were confined to their homes with severe colds, contracted no doubt by wearing low cut vests with no protection for the chest and lungs. We advise them and all others in this uncertain weather to wear a good felt chest protector such as can be obtained at Kellog's new drug store, and if you have one of the fashionable colds, just try one bottle of the London Hospital Cough Cure.

Will Have to Explain.

The officers of the wrecked steamer Wide West are probably congratulating themselves upon their fortunate escape from a watery grave; they are not in clover by any means, for the inspectors of Seattle will make a thorough investigation, giving the young captain a chance to explain why he took the boat away without the knowledge of the local inspectors of Portland; also, why he placed the lives of the seven men in jeopardy by putting to sea when the steamer was in a disabled and unseaworthy condition.

Salt Spring Island.

Burgoyne Bay, Jan. 14.—Another panther was killed on Salt Spring Island. It killed three sheep for Joseph Nightingale on Sunday night. Mr. Nightingale and Samuel Maxwell followed its tracks and found it in a tree. This is the second killed. Panthers have killed a great many sheep on the island.

We had four inches of snow on Saturday night.

No teacher yet for Burgoyne Bay school. The teacher that left here got a situation in the Vancouver high school. SKYTLER.

Short Term Recruit.

An able bodied young fellow applied to the officers of C Battery for enlistment a few days ago. Being physically adapted to the requirements he was accepted for a term of three months. He first made some friends by his suave manner, and then sought small loans. After being in the Battery for three days he was found missing and search for him proved unavailing. The supposition is that he only joined to get a bed and meals during the cold weather. After obtaining a small loan he took the Sound steamer for other parts, and that is the last of him for the present.

Seattle Post Office.

A subscriber at Seattle writes: "The post office in this place is the most inefficient of any in the world, and not one of the half dozen papers have the courage to show it up. It is almost impossible for ordinary people to get any mail. We sent once to have our paper sent by private hands, but he was told that it was sent regularly, which we have no doubt of. Please return the money we sent you. Our paper might be directed to our number — . To get a box is out of the question, and to spend hours in getting to the wicket and then being told there is nothing for you, when you know there is, is extremely disgusting."

Good Exhibition of Nerve.

A good exhibition of nerve is that which is sometimes made by the city electric light linemen. Yesterday afternoon when the south wind was blowing a scorter and making the city its playground the lineman ascending the electric pole at the junction of Government was the object of not a few observers. With a lamp hanging on his arm and climbing up hand over hand on the foot spikes, while at the same time he was engaged in a struggle with the elements, it appeared to the ordinary onlooker, that he was just as comfortable keeping up one of the posts at Frank Campbell's corner as if he were up there 70 or 80 feet in the air.

Skaggs Short in Cash.

A number of small discrepancies have been discovered in the accounts of Thos. Skaggs, the missing Northern Pacific Express agent. The checking up of his books is about completed and the deficit will not exceed $200. While the discovery does does not prove Skaggs a defaulter it shows a degree of carelessness on his part that is almost criminal. What the feeling of the officials of the company are towards Skaggs since these discoveries are unknown, but an order discharging him from the employ of the company has been issued from the Portland office yesterday. Nothing new concerning Skaggs' whereabouts has been learned. Travers, who left Seattle last Thursday under suspicious circumstances, and who it is supposed had gone to join Skaggs across the border, has not been heard from.

La Grippe at C Battery.

La grippe has captured C Battery. At parade yesterday only one full private responded to the roll call, and but three non commissioned officers assisted at the parade. It is reported that the step kept by the soldiery was perfect, no such precision having ever before been witnessed since the battery was formed. The arms also were poised in perfect line, while all the evolutions were performed with a unity of action unexcelled by the best drilled troops of the great war powers of Europe. The sight of one soldier forming squares by twelves, and other complex military movements must have been a unique one, to say the least, and when the order to charge with fixed bayonets was given, the movement was brilliant and effective, as one solitary Tommy Atkins dashed bravely upon the imaginary foe.

THE LAST ONE.

The Aldermen for 1889 Hold Their Final Meeting.

The last regular meeting for the board of aldermen for 1889 was held at the city hall last night. Present: His Worship Mayor Grant in the chair, Aldermen Vigelius, Goodacre, Harrison, McKillican and Coughlan. Routine business having been transacted, Clerk Dowler read the following

COMMUNICATIONS.

From S. P. Mills in reference to purchase of land from Mrs. Archibald for park purposes. Referred to the city barristers.

From R. B. McMicking in reference to guard wires, etc., of the Tramway company. Referred to the Mayor, the city surveyor and electrician.

From Drake, Jackson & Helmcken in reference to improvements on the streets. Tabled.

From R. B. McMicking in reference to transfer to him of the contract for the erection of the Gamewell Fire Alarm system. Contract ratified by vote of the board.

From Redon & Hartnagle in reference to intended addition to the Driard hotel, and asking for a drain to the premises, free water and taxation for a term of years.

On motion it was decided to inform Messrs. Redon & Hartnagle that this council recommend their request to the incoming council who would no doubt deal fairly with them.

From R. P. Rithet & Co., in reference to bad state of sidewalk on Rupert street. Ordered that a temporary walk be laid.

REPORT OF FINANCES.

The balance sheet and report of finances was adopted and handed to the printing committee for publication.

THANKS.

Ald. Vigelius moved a vote of thanks to Mayor Grant for the able and gentlemanly manner in which he had carried out the business of the board during the past year. Seconded by Ald. Harrison and carried.

His Worship in response said he was very thankful for these kind expressions. He had always striven to do his best, and knew that, although at time he may have differed from them, still he felt that their relations had been most amicable. It was pleasing to feel that his efforts had been recognized, and thanked the gentlemen for their kind expressions.

On motion the board adjourned.

A SOUND GREYHOUND.

A Twenty-five Knot Steamer to be Built in Seattle.

A company has been arranged for in Seattle which is to be known as the Rapid Transit Steamboat Co., with the object of running a line of passenger boats fast enough to make the trip between Seattle and Tacoma in one hour and ten minutes, and from Seattle to Port Townsend in one hour and thirty six minutes. The promoters of the scheme, Russell J. Lowe and Captain Frank Whitworth, formerly commanding the Wilmington, confidently assert the plausibility of their project.

One steamer is to be built and running by the first of June next. Her length will be 200 feet with 22 feet beam, and a depth between decks 7½ feet. She will be a twin screw propeller, run by two compound engines and separate steel boilers.

The idea is to utilize this greyhound exclusively for passenger service between the points named. No freight will be taken under any circumstances. The interior fittings of the new boat will be luxurious and in all her appointments first class. Electricity will be used for lighting purposes, and the appointments in short will be as complete as money and science can make them. The boat is to be built in Seattle, but her engines are to be constructed in the eastern states.

MISS HORTON OF SEATTLE

Returns from Japan—What She Says of the English and Americans.

A young lady missionary, Miss Nellie Horton, the daughter of Mr. Dexter Horton, the retired banker, arrived here yesterday from Yokohama, Japan. She has been away from home about two years, during which time she has been teaching English to the Japanese, under the auspices of the foreign missionary society of the Methodist church. It was her intention to have remained abroad five years, but was compelled to return in consequence of ill health.

Miss Horton expresses herself as having been well pleased with the industry and intelligence of her Japanese pupils. The native teachers earn thirty yen (about twenty-five dollars) a month for their services. All Japanese are ambitious to learn to talk good English.

The social advantages of Yokohama, Miss Horton says, are limited chiefly to missionary circles, and hence are not especially attractive to Americans. There are many wealthy English people in Japan. They are proud and clannish and hold themselves aloof from the missionaries. The English are not nearly so well liked by the Japanese as are the Americans.

With the climate and beautiful natural scenery of Japan Miss Horton was delighted in common with everyone else who has ever visited "the land of the rising sun." While away she saw Fujii Yama (the sacred mountain) and brought home with her many curious relics of her trip.

She also rode in a jinrikisha (a two-wheeled cart drawn by Japanese) and saw the 9 year-old heir apparent to the throne of Japan.—Post-Intelligencer.

TWO SHORT RINGS.

Always Give Them After Using the Telephone.

Growls against the telephone system and its attendants have been frequent of late, but few of the growlers seem to remember that the service in this city is growing rapidly and that the "calls" which are answered every day mount up to thousands. The switchboard attendants are thus kept busy, and humanity is bound to err.

In one matter, though, the telephone using public could greatly help, and that is to give two short rings after having finished a conversation. This will indicate to the switchboard attendant that you are ready to be "cut out," and will also give you a chance to ring up any one else you might wish to without waiting an unknown time for the wire to be disconnected.

The telephone management are anxious to make the service as perfect as possible, and if subscribers would send in complaints direct to the head office much bother would be saved. This windy weather the wires get "crossed" in spite of the vigilance of the linemen, and when this is the case two phones at least are temporarily disabled. Sometimes the "crosses" are cleared by the wind itself, and then everything works all right for a time, and the central office answers with promptitude. Perhaps, though, until that moment the "cross" has been on, and minutes have been passed in a vain effort to get "central", while anathemas have been heaped on the head of the innocent switch attendant.

Wherever telephones are used there is always sure to be an occasional break, but taken as a whole the system in Victoria compares favorably with that in other cities. To help the service to be still better though, finish your conversations with two short rings.

Coal News.

Coal at Vancouver has been raised to $9 per ton while in Victoria it remains at the same old price. The Central Coal Yard and the Rock Bay Coal Yard have been merged into one and hereafter will be carried on under the name of the Central Coal Yard. Orders to be left at 90½ Government street. *

Arrived.

Bass XXXX Ale (Lamb's Wool) at the Occidental Hotel bar.

Crowded Out.

As the police court room was turned into a voting place this morning, his honor held court in the Superintendent's room. The docket being a small one, and of very little interest, there was no crowding, although the quarters were somewhat circumscribed.

Corporation Finances.

A detailed statement of the finances of the city is published on the third page of this paper. A careful perusal will, we are inclined to think, show that the financial standing of Victoria is excellent, in fact second to none on the coast.

The Grippe is Boss.

Vancouver could not get ahead of Victoria in the matter of the rice mills but the grip did. This valuable industry has been shut down for want of some one to run it, the engineer, fireman and one of the millers being laid up. The chief miller is now performing the offices of fireman to keep the boilers in order.

Still Down.

The telegraph wires are still hors du combat after the fight with the cyclone in Washington State. There has been no connection with Vancouver since Tuesday. Under such a consideration of affairs the work of producing a readable paper is beset with a maximum of difficulties. Good public, have mercy on us.

Abolished Sunday School.

The sector in one of the Episcopal churches in New York has caused a sensation in his congregation by abolishing the Sunday school. His idea was that the ignorance and frivolity of the teachers had nearly destroyed its value. It is probable that his observation is not peculiar. The idea that teachers in the Sunday school can be made out of any sort of material is not a good one to operate with.

Looking for Marble.

A. W. Huson and Mr. Rudge, sr., left by the Bardonax this afternoon to examine a marble quarry on the northern coast in the vicinity of Alert Bay. Mr. Huson has 160 acres of land in which there are indications of an abundance of marble. Mr. Rudge goes north to examine the prospect and bring down samples. They expect to return inside of two weeks. If the marble comes up to expectations shipments from time to time will be made to the city in the future.

Marine.

Captain Healy, of the U. S. steamer Bear, was the cause of an indignation meeting at San Francisco recently, Ministers of churches and others met in Metropolitan hall and passed resolutions protesting against the alleged cruelty of Captain Healy to seamen of the barkentine Estelle while lying at Onnalaska last summer.

The British ship Troop, from Victoria, arrived at Port Townsend Tuesday. She will go down to Tacoma soon to load lumber for Adelaide, Australia.

Authority on Influenza.

A Russian authority who has been hunting up the records of influenza says that between 1510 when the disease first attracted at Malta, and 1850, there were altogether three hundred distinct epidemics of influenza in Europe. This would leave only forty years, throughout three hundred and forty, that influenza was not epidemic. If this malady has been so constant and continues in its visitations it ought to be better understood and its treatment better known than they are.

Summer Travel.

The delegation of railway passenger agents recently in this city have returned to their respective headquarters in the east from a trip to the coast. They came to see what was to be seen, and to be able to truthfully tell easterners what the western cities were really like. While they were in this city one stated that there were more inquiries regarding Seattle and Victoria than any other places, and from this we would infer that travel would be heavier this year than ever before.

Funeral.

The remains of the late T. N. Hibben were consigned to the grave this afternoon. Services for the dead were read at the Reformed Episcopal Church by the Rev. Bishop Cridge and the Rev. Dr. Reid. The Pioneer society and many friends of the deceased were present and followed the remains to their last resting place. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. P. J. Leech, J. J. Austin, Morris Moss, A. B. Gray, Chas. A. Lombard, R. T. Williams, E. E. Johnson and J. B. Chantrell.

The Ancients Outdone.

Enameling is a most ancient art, and yet people never seem to tire of it. In the De Cessola collection of antiquities in the Metropolitan museum in New York are specimens made 2000 B. C. This beautiful work is being done in Victoria by the enterprising firm of Pennock & Clayton, and their recent work on the Athletic Club badges is worthy of the highest commendation. The badges are enameled in several colors, some of them set with diamonds, and are in large demand by members of the club.

C. P. R. Clear.

It is learned that the Canadian Pacific Railway from Montreal to Vancouver is open for traffic, and all trains are running on schedule time. This is something of a contrast with the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific Railways which are badly blocked with snow. The through trains on the two latter railways cannot get through owing to the snow blockade. This speaks volumes for the management and superiority of the Canadian Pacific line. Canada is not the inhospitable country that her enemies would have the travelling public believe.

Severe Storm.

One of the severest snow storms in many years, says the Nanaimo Free Press, visited this city and district last night and to-day. The high wind prevailing caused the snow to drift badly, interfering somewhat with railway and street traffic. It would appear that Ontario and Vancouver Island had changed places this year, for Mr. J. A. Thompson, of Wellington, who has just returned from Toronto, says that on New Year's day there was not a particle of snow there, and the weather was warm and pleasant.

When the train was leaving Nanaimo yesterday it was found impossible to get out more than one coach, the other being completely snowed up. The telegraph and telephone wires were badly demoralized yesterday by the snow storm.

J. C. Duff Comic Opera Co.

Monday night will see the advent of this famous organization. They will arrive here in good time from Tacoma, special arrangements having been made with the O. R. & N. Co. to get them in early so as to have the curtain up at 8 o'clock. "Paola" is the opening bill.

This opera by Paulton & Jakobowski authors of "Erminie," has met with great success in Lower Canada where Mr. Duff's No. 2 company presented it. From the fact that this company coming here is the one which filled an engagement of four weeks at Baldwin theatre, San Francisco and goes from here to the Chicago Auditorium for 10 weeks should be a guarantee of its excellence. We are likely to see large and fashionable audiences as the opening nights to be under distinguished patronage. "Paola" is a satire on the Corsican vendetta in song and treats of the struggle, the comic side of it of course, between the rival families. "The Queen's Mate," is a gorgeous spectacular opera. The music by Chas. Lecocq is of a high order. "A Trip to Africa," by Von Suppe, is perhaps the gem of the three musically. The scene of the opera is laid in the east and gives every opportunity for grand and brilliant costuming.
